

SIX CAMPBELL SCHOOLS HAVE A 127,000 POTENTIAL ENROLLMENT

That the potential enrollment of six schools in the Campbell area could reach 127,000 under present zoning and lot sizes, was the statement made before a group of educators at the Campbell High School by Karl Belser, the planning consultant for Santa Clara County. Belser used the state factor of eight-tenths child per average in computation.

While these figures are mathematically correct he contended that the child average in this area is much higher than is the state average, indicating it might be nearer 1.5 or 2 per home average which would double the estimate. Builders are erecting and selling three and four-bedroom homes in this area indicating the extra number of children per home.

Belser said that this area has not yet felt the real growth which seems a positive expansion trend for the next six years with the completion of vast industrial properties within a five mile zoning and with the completion of the freeway and the Hamilton avenue interchange as the first outlet from the industrialized areas.

The potential enrollment of schools here under present zoning he said would be:

Campbell Union Elementary School 30,000; Campbell Union High School 60,000; Moreland School 9000; Union School 11,000; and Cambrian School 17,000.

UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT CALLS BOND ELECTION FOR A NEW SITE

A bond election in the amount of $300,000 for the main purpose of acquiring two new schools has been called for July 13 by the Union School District board of trustees.

Funds will be used toward the purchase of school lots, building or purchasing of school buildings, alterations and additions to school buildings, furnishings, permanent improvement of school grounds and to provide sewers and adequate draining on or away from school property.

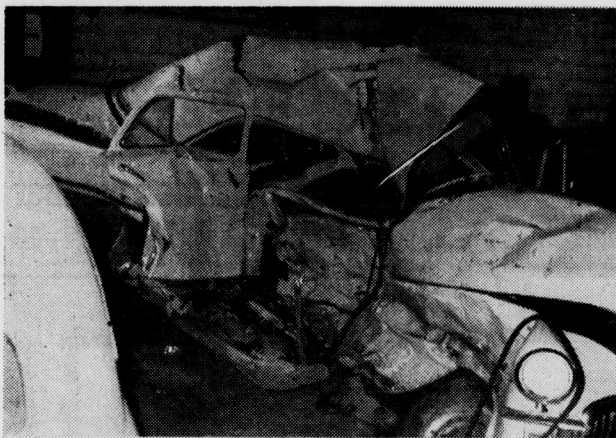

With the passage of this bond issue Union School District will become eligible for a million dollar state aid over the next 5 or 6 year period.

Plans for 686 homes in the district are on file which means a potential of 600 more students within the school district making more facilities imperative. Without additional schools double or triple sessions would be necessary. Passage of the bond issue will not involve a tax increase.

According to school authorities it will take from 15 to 30 months to purchase property; have plans drawn and approved and construct any new buildings.

Polling place will be at Union School, Administration Building, 15230 Los Gatos-Almaden Road.

CAMPBELL YOUTH DIES—A crash between this car and an army bus on Saturday claimed the life of Donald Stephens, 17 year old son of the postmistress at the San Tomas station, and Campbell High School junior. The bus was carrying the army bandmen who had appeared at Saratoga and who in February were in the Old Settlers Parade in Campbell. Fourteen persons were injured, most of them soldiers.

MORELAND DISTRICT SEES NEED FOR TWO MORE NEW SCHOOLS

A tentative budget of $277,000 has been approved by trustees of the Moreland School for the 1954-55 term which sum is an increase of $39,000 over the last budget. The school is hiring four more teachers and will be operating with more classrooms.

The board is to apply to the State for funds for a third school in the district to be located on a ten acre site on San Tomas Road at Rincon and Bucknall. They also seek funds for the purchase of a site for a fourth school in the district in the area of the new 115-acre Driscoll property subdivision on Saratoga Road where five hundred homes are planned.

The Moreland School now enrolls 930 students and expects to have more than 1000 when the term opens in September.

PLANNERS STUDY PROPOSED SHIFT OF CAMDEN ROAD

The proposal to change alignment of Camden Avenue at Winchester Road comes before the planning commission this evening having been referred to the commission by the city council. The proposal was made in a letter from Leonard Bushnell, Santa Clara County Engineer, anticipating making Winchester a four lane road and channelize traffic with a left turn lane for south bound traffic entering Camden avenue.

The planners tonight will consider a request from Ralph Weaver seeking to withdraw his application for rezoning lots 63 and 64 on Unit 2 in Hamilton Square from R-2 to R-3 zoning.

A map from William C. Henley for architectural approval of plans for a duplex and carport on his lot at 121 South Winchester road is on the agenda as also is the tentative map dedicating Harrison street in Shady Acres tract and for the return at the north east corner of Central avenue and the proposed new Harrison street intersection.

Hamilton Traffic Signals Will Be Ready In August

The State Division of Highways has temporarily rented the building at 15 S. Third St., Campbell for engineers working on the widening of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and the installation of traffic signals at Hamilton Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road crossing.

W. S. Smith is the resident engineer. He has a crew of three working with him on the project. The job has been currently delayed by the removal of power poles on the site but signals are expected to be in operation by approximately August 1.

According to Smith the widening of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road will be completed prior to the signal installation.

This office is also doing the engineering on highway contracts in San Jose, Los Altos and Gilroy.

In Next Four Years

HENLEY SAYS SCHOOL ENROLLMENT WILL INCREASE 50% IN DISTRICT

That there are more children of pre-school age in the Campbell Union Grammar School district than are now enrolled in the nine schools was the statement made before the Campbell Kiwanis Club at the noon luncheon meeting Tuesday by William Henley, school superintendent. He said that in four years half the present enrollment will have graduated but that all this new, lot, now of pre-school age, will have been enrolled so that enrollment will be up some fifty percent or more within five years.

Henley quoted Karl Belser, county planning consultant as having stated the potential enrollment in the present Campbell Union Grammar School district to be 30,000 as compared with 4,100 now and of one thousand, five years ago. Belser also said we will see the greatest growth here within the next six or seven years. Henley said that of the nine schools in the district, four will have double sessions next year.

Henley next had his talk on advancing enrollment figures with those prepared by the Pacific Telephone Company recently at open house in which it was shown the number of telephones in the Campbell area increased 675 % in nine years, from 905 telephones in 1945 to 6107 today. He used the sample of cable used to carry the load in 1945 and the one used today to illustrate also the growth of the school system.

Henley called attention to the bond election to be held next Thursday for the proposed Monroe street school and a proposal to raise the tax ceiling to alleviate the tax district's pressing financial needs. Voting will be at the Campbell, San Tomas and Moorpark schools.

Other features of the Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday was the introduction of four honor students, Marlene Langdon who is enrolling at U. C., Diane Bowman, who is going to Santa Barbara branch of U. C., Eugene Morgan and Gerald Zish who are enrolling at Stanford.

Funeral services were held yesterday at 11:00 a. m. for Donald Ray Stephens, 17, who died Saturday in an accident between a car in which he was riding and an Army bus on Blossom Hill Road near Los Gatos.

Stephens was the son of Mrs. Hester Stephens of 867 Steiny Avenue and the late Rev. G. L. Stephens of San Tomas Baptist Church.

He was a native of Kentucky and leaves two brothers, Gene Stephens and Pfc. Isaac Stephens. The youth was very active in sports at Campbell High School, participating in "B" football and a member of this year's championship track team.

He was a member of El Oso Hi-Y and the president-elect for the coming year.

Members of the Hi-Y club served as pall bearers.

School should be ready for operation by February, 1955, with the actual construction getting underway in July.

The school is financed from a bond issue voted in December and will house children through the first six grades.

Plans are for 10 classrooms, a multi-use room and an administrative unit.

Inspector for construction will be Max Nigl.

Weeds Burned By Firemen Here

Fred Jones, Jr. and eight volunteers from the Campbell Volunteer Fire Department last Thursday burned the grass off three lots in Campbell at the request of lot owners.

Areas cleared by the burning were at the corner of El Caminito and Winchester Road, the corner of Carlyn and West Campbell Ave., and lot No. 1 on Alice Way.

Topic theme for student speakers will be "Horizons Unlimited".

Scholarship winner Dianne Bowman, talking on "Future Opportunities" will contrast advantages young people have today as compared to those of twenty years ago. It is her belief that opportunity knocks more than once and that the field of science holds real promise. She considers this a day of many dimensions, full of promise for any who are willing to work and persevere.

Marty Langen will discuss "Educational Opportunities". She is convinced that modern youth receive superior training and that our civilization is making real progress toward peace and plenty.

Superintendent Laurence J. Hill and senior advisor Jules Langia will award the diplomas and scholarships. Music will be provided by the high school band under the baton of conductor, Richard Gordon.

BANQUET HONORS SPRING SPORTS CUHS ATHLETES

Dr. Leslie Reukema, professor of sciences at the University of California, author, athlete, traveller and woodsman, gave an inspiring talk Friday evening at the third sports banquet of the year at the Campbell High school on keeping the human body in a healthy condition through the spans of life. He told of having spent some ten summers in national parks of the United States and Canada laying out trails and climbing peaks.

Although in his sixties, Dr. Reukema daily walks five to ten miles and devotes an hour daily to swimming and diving.

The Dads club of the student body, the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs sponsored the banquet. Len Merritt, representing the Dads club gave the address of welcome, and J. V. Gomes, member of the school board, was master of ceremonies.

C. P. Klassen led community singing.

Members of the various sports teams were introduced by coaches. Mel Stein introduced members of the baseball team, coach Len Scroggins the swimming team, Fred Cugat the varsity tennis team, and Junior Morgan the varsity track team.

Campbell high school made an outstanding record in sports during the year. The Bucs tied Fremont for the SCVAL football title, won the basketball and wrestling titles, came in second with swimming, second in golf, first in varsity track, and through Eric Provia, took the singles title in tennis for the valley. The baseball team did not fare so well, but Coach Stein said he has the nucleus for a winning team in 1955.

Communications Topic At Rotary

Robert A. Mason, Santa Clara County Communications Supervisor, was the guest speaker at the Monday meeting of Campbell Rotary Club.

He was introduced by chairman for the day, Dr. Frederic Snyder, and explained that his department was established in 1947 by the Board of Supervisors.

He said that there are 25 governmental agencies in the county interested in public safety which have irregular boundaries and therefore need a central communications bureau. Mason likened the agency to the physicians' exchange.

The department he explained serves as a central clearing house for police and fire departments eliminating the possibility of fire departments receiving calls that are not in their jurisdiction.

Mason also stated that there is an equipment pool for all members of Central Communications and that Campbell as yet is not a member.

EDITORIAL

A GROWING PROFESSION

Some bright school youngster who might like to stump his teacher should ask her to name the fastest-growing profession in America. She may say it is the teaching profession, which certainly is growing, or she may say chemistry, engineering, medicine or a dozen or more other professions—and the odds are she will still be wrong.

Public accounting today leads all other professions in rate of growth, according to Arthur Foye, president of the American Institute of Accountants. He said at San Francisco last week that there are 51,000 CPAs in America today as compared with 20,000 back in 1940.

The complex ways of doing business today under government taxing directives has just about made CPA services indispensable. He proudly points out that a CPA has been appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue, while another has been named mayor of Los Angeles.

Gone forever seem to be the days when all that the businessman with a simple knowledge of arithmetic needed, was a stub pencil tied to his single entry ledger. Business life is more complicated today—one has to pay the Government and also pay the bookkeepers and accountants to figure out how much he owes Uncle Sam.

THE SPACEMEN ARE COMING

It may be that the world of today does not smell any too good for people from outer spaces. It may be that they get just so close to the crust of the earth and then zoom off again to their home base, nauseated by something or other. At any rate, the flying saucer may yet swoop down to earth—and there is no use believing otherwise, according to Chief Marshall Lord Dowding, retired, who commanded the home fighter planes in the Battle of Britain.

Speaking before the Kent Federation of Spiritualists last week, he said people on other planets are operating, through flying saucers, to check the operations of the world of today.

It may be that, like we test the temperature of the swimming pool with our little footsies before diving in on a cool day, these saucers are taking recordings, temperatures, air pressures and other data for someone, somewhere.

Believe what you will about it, the time of their arrival cannot be determined from any factual reports now on hand. You just have to imagine what might happen when the ozone clears to the outer man's standard.

STUBBORN VOTERS

The California voter is not easily turned aside, according to the balloting last week. Seems that personal scandal, poor security risk or even death itself, is not enough to defy voting for him. In Los Angeles, Jimmy Roosevelt took the Democratic nomination for the 26th Congressional district even though he had just been through a sensational court case, while in Contra Costa and Solano Counties Robert Condon won the Democratic nomination in spite of having been banned recently from atomic tests in Nevada because of being a "poor security risk"—and in San Francisco, William C. Berry, Democrat, who died last month, was renominated to the State Legislature from the 23rd Assembly District.

Yes indeed, the California voter is not easily turned aside.

A DAY FOR FATHER

Father has a supporting role in life, and if there are any "Oscars" to be passed out to the family, he should get one. Father appreciates a little support from the family too—moral support, that is.

The necktie, the slippers or the wallet given him on Father's day is evidence that the rest of the household have more affection for him than he is sometimes led to believe. But, more than all else, he appreciates understanding that he needs to settle down quietly for a while after coming home from a hard day's work. Given this, he will probably become real sociable and kindly.

So here's to father on his day, and every day. May he receive many gifts, most of them already paid for.

VOTE FOR THE SCHOOL BONDS

From 4100 enrollment today in the Campbell Union Elementary School district to 4850 when school opens in September is a factual report of things to come, according to a report of the district superintendent. There are eight schools serving the area now, and another, the Dover school, will be ready in the fall. A tenth school is needed, and next Thursday the voters will decide if the district is to be bonded for this new school and for raising the tax ceiling to meet an emergency.

Even with nine schools in session, four will be running on double sessions. There seems little doubt of the need for this new school. The Campbell Press endorses the measures.

There seems to be no end in sight for needs to erect a new 600-pupil school every year for the next five years, the way new homes are being built and new pre-school age children are arriving. It seems that a Yes vote at next Thursday's election is a Must.

The Campbell Gambol

MOCKING BIRDS seem to sing lustily from the tree tops around Campbell at this time of the year, now and then doing flip flops and imitating the sounds of other birds nearby... one of the old settlers tells me that it is the male bird at song near his nesting mate to which he is faithful and protecting while in this most happy mood... the mocking bird is an American Memine bird of blue gray coloring with dusty white below and with white in its wings and outer tail-quills and which, according to the encyclopedia, sometimes may be heard at night and is sometimes called mock nightingale; which of course is a relief to this writer who, a few weeks ago, reported having heard a mockinbird singing at two o'clock in the morning.

SCHOOLS Are closing this week and the school board will be concerned with budgets and new enrollment figures, faculty members will be concerned with new places to explore for their short vacations and the students will be concerned with recreational programs... there are not many places like the Santa Clara Valley which is within a two hour drive of some of the finest vacation land on earth, with beaches, big trees, fishing streams, lakes, golf courses and mountains so readily available, yet the schools make it encouraging to young people to stay right here to indulge in a very well worked out summer recreation program with baseball and softball leagues set up for every age group, swimming courses, music, tennis, basketball, wrestling and tumbling... not likely that many will want to travel far and miss the program already set up here, or to try to find a vacationland more versatile or satisfying than that which we have withing a seventy mile radius.

A RIGHT ANGLE Intersection of Camden Avenue with Winchester Road as proposed to the city council last week by the County might eliminate a dangerous approach there now at about a 15c piece of pie angle approach just over the railroad crossing, an intersection which has seen several fatal accidents in the last two years... the county and the city are in agreement that Winchester road is to be a four-lane highway, but the county would also provide a left turn lane to channelize traffic to Camden avenue under signal controls... this is the old route of the railroad from Almaden that joined the Los Gatos line... plans had been discussed at one time of extending Casey road across Camden and Winchester Road and continue out what is now known as Sunnyoaks avenue, so these two intersections will probably have to be thoroughly discussed before any final action is taken.

U. C. Extension Course To Start

Chrysler Pioneers Power Steering As Standard Gear

Chrysler, which in 1951 pioneered power steering for automobiles, now has introduced a new type called coaxial power steering, reports E. C. Quinn, president, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

"Because power steering increases driving safety, make driving more restful and provides effortless parking almost every automobile manufacturer has followed Chrysler's lead and offers power steering in some form," Quinn said. "This new device, designed and built by Chrysler, gives the same full-time operation and excellent performance as the original design but its streamlined, simplified design offers additional benefits."

The Chrysler coaxial unit is designed as an integral car component, not as an add-on or booster feature. Its simple, functional design means less bulk in the engine compartment allowing easier access to the other equipment such as starter and brake pedal.

It has fewer parts and is lighter in weight than any other integral-type power steering system now on the market because of its simplified mechanism which promises longer operational life without adjustment.

Service-free operation beyond the usual 1000 mile oil level check is provided as the gear is self-lubricated. No mechanical adjust-

It was announced that $500 will be presented to the Union and Parker schools for purchasing new books for the libraries and reading corners, representing proceeds of the spring carnival.

Kenneth McDonell, Union district superintendent, explained the July 13 qualifying bond election. The bonds would make the district eligible over the next five or six years for state funds, without calling for a new election. They are to be sold to provide schools as the population increases. If the area remains as it is, it will not be necessary to sell bonds.

Purpose of the election is to keep the district bonded to capacity, therefore eligible for state aid.

An interpretive dance was presented by girls of the seventh and eighth grades. Participating were Jane Cusick, Karen Winslow, Janet Creech, Sheryl Haver, Sandra Hankin, Nancy Nichols, Mary Jane Thompson, Judy Wing and Sylvia Ramirez.

NO DOUBLE SESSIONS IN LINDA MAR—the 11 room school shown above is actually a series of conventional 3-bedroom homes with connecting covered walkways minus interior walls, to be rented to the School District on a month-to-month basis. The "school" houses can be completed as homes (below) identical to others in the 3,500 home community South of San Francisco. The novel plan is the idea of Andres F. Oddstad, President of Homes by Sterling, tract developers. Oddstad believes that builders should share the responsibility of the school-housing problems they create. Other communities have expressed interest in the plan which may be the answer to one of America's biggest educational headaches.

CAMPBELL DISTRICT MAY NEED FIVE MORE SCHOOLS IN NEXT FIVE YEARS

LOCAL TEACHER TO BE MARRIED

March Townsend and Wickliffe Raper Miller are making plans for a formal wedding June 19 at 5:00 p. m. at Trinity Episcopal Church in San Jose.

The bride-elect is a fourth grade teacher at Moorpark School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving D. Townsend of Gallup, New Mexico, former Campbell residents. Her grandfather was Dr. Amos Townsend, early settler in Campbell.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wickliffe Miller of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and is at present a student at the University of California.

Both of the young people graduated from the University of New Mexico.

Mrs. Charles Roger of Los Angeles will be the matron of honor and Bruce Henderson of Berkeley will serve as best man.

A reception is planned following the ceremony at the Saratoga home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Joseph Long.

After a honeymoon the couple will make their home in Berkeley. Miss Townsend has accepted a teaching position in Piedmont nearby.

That there seems no immediate end in sight on the need for more schools in the Campbell area, was the statement of William C. Henley, superintendent of the Campbell Union School district. In an annual report recently issued, Henley said the district is faced with the problem of building the equivalent of at least one new 600-pupil school per year for the next five years, plus expanding present facilities to the best of our abilities.

The original Campbell Grammar School was built in 1922 and had a pupil capacity of 861. The race to meet housing needs started in 1946 with building of Moorpark School, capacity of 602, and San Tomas School, capacity 558. Addition of Cypress School, capacity 400; Rosemary School, capacity 393, and Quito School, capacity 324, came in 1952.

In 1953, Hamilton School, capacity 497, and Cherry Lane School, capacity 329, were erected. Now under construction is Dover School at 840 Sheffield Ave., capacity 294, and plans are on the drawing board for James Monroe School for 397 children to be completed in 1955.

Illustrating crowded conditions in the schools Moorpark with a rated capacity of about 600 youngsters this year served more than 800, and faces still heavier enrollments.

State allocation of more than $300,000 to build Monroe School has been granted, but the district is faced with the problem of providing $49,000 in local funds first before the money will be granted. District voters will go to the polls June 24 to vote on $950,000 new building bonds and a raise in the operational tax rate to $1.80, both deemed necessary by trustees and Campbell Citizens Advisory Council to the district for continued sound financial operation of the school system.

Mr. and Mrs. ALVA TUCKER of Sarasota, Florida, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. BERNARD RITCHIE and Mr. and Mrs. HILTON TUCKER. The Hilton Tuckers reside at 530 San Tomas Road.

Mr. and Mrs. ALMER LAEDERICH of Chelsea Drive have just returned from an enjoyable outing of camping and fishing in the high Sierras.

Is it true that the big Boston Red Sox-Chicago White Sox deal that sent third baseman George Kell to Chicago is Tom Yawkey's way of handing the pennant to Chicago to make up for the failure of the Vern Stephens deal of 1953 to pay off the Comiskeymen?

In the hustle and bustle by the Cleveland Indians to the top of the American League on the wings of a long winning streak, one of the biggest hassles between major league management and chattel was overlooked. When Luke Easter, the huge but breakable first sacker for Al Lopez' crew, was notified that he was to be relegated to the minors, he put up such a squawk that General Manager Hank Greenberg had to call Easter in for a private dressing down. Don't hold your breath until Easter wears a big league uniform again.

News from the East tabs the University of Wisconsin Badgers to repeat their trip to Pasadena of two years ago for the Rose Bowl game, January 1, 1955. Their All-American fullback, Allan Ameche, is reputed to have grown so since last fall that shoulder pads had to be ordered. And he hasn't lost any of his speed. Could Chuck Taylor use this boy?

Tru Clevenger, the young Boston Red Sox hurler, is the same pitcher who led his league last year with an under two runs per game earned run average as a member of the Class "C" San Jose Red Sox. Clevenger, not slated to stick with the parent Boston Club after only one year in organized baseball, was shoved into the breach by manager Lou Boudreau when the club's hurling star, Mel Parnell, was injured early in the year. Clevenger may not last the entire season in Bean Town, but look for him to be a real star in the junior circuit within another year or two.

There is a certain rumor in Eastern fistic circles that Kid Gavilan, the Cuban Hawk, is in financial difficulties. The story stems from rumors that Gavilan would have put off the Bobo Olsen fight if it weren't for the fact that he needed the money. The feeling seems to be that Gavilan would have had a better chance if he hadn't gone through with the fight on schedule. His right hand was in bad shape the night of the fight. That was confirmed recently with the news that the "Keed's" right duke was put in a cast and that it may have to be operated on later.

In case you are a bit confused about the super-abundance of jockeys named Adams, it can be explained in a moment. Johnny Adams, who is exceeded in this country by only two other riders as the number of winners brought home, has a son who is also ... that's right ... a jockey.

The handsome and dignified time keeper at the recent Modesto Relays looked familiar, didn't he? He should have. He was Governor Knight who took over stop watch duties for one of the sprints.

Kilmartin Will Retire Soon As County Coroner

Frank Thill, county executive, was notified yesterday by Thomas Kilmartin of the latter's intent to retire on the first of August. In making this announcement, Kilmartin recommended appointment of Charles Bowers, his chief deputy, to complete the term ending January 1. Kilmartin had served as deputy coroner himself at the time of the retirement of Mrs. Jesse Spalding, who recommended his appointment. After 20 years operating an automobile agency he retired from that field in 1939, then entered the insurance business. He served on the California Racing board at one time.

Following action of the board in making the appointment effective January 1, the new Coroner and Public Administrator will be qualified to name his list of deputy coroners.

Music For Fun This Summer On Campbell Program

The fifth annual Recreational Music program for children of the Campbell High School area will get under way Tuesday, July 6 to August 13, five days per week, Monday through Friday.

In these six weeks of instruction and group playing, the pupil may gain a fresh viewpoint through contact with a number of instructors. The theme, "Music for Fun" is to be stressed rather than classroom study courses. The minimum cost includes tuition, books, transportation and free use of an instrument from Sherman Clay Co.

Accordion and piano will not be included in the training course but band and orchestra will be provided for all levels of progress. The rhythm through drumming course which has been popular for the last two years will be resumed and will be open to all regardless of major instrument. Les Landen, a cartoonist and folk music fancier will be on the staff.

Paul Lozar is director of the Summer music program.

Access Roads For Shopping Center

Work is expected to begin shortly on the construction of access roads for the Stanford regional center, which will occupy the plot of land along El Camino Real between Palo Alto Hospital and the Convalescent Home.

The Emporium of San Francisco will construct a branch store as the central feature of the $15,000,000 center. Numerous other buildings and a parking area for 3,500 automobiles will be included in the initial development of 42 acres.

Willow Road will be constructed from Sand Hill Road to the Convalescent Home. Its extension from that point to connect with Willow Road east of El Camino Real will await the decision of state, county, and city officials on where and how Willow will cross the highway.

A new road will extend from Stanford Stadium across the Arboretum and Palm Drive to connect with Willow Road behind the center. This road not only will serve the center, but will provide an outlet for foothills traffic which now uses other campus roads. It is expected that the volume of traffic will require a signal at the Palm Drive intersection.

Industrial Plant On Sunnyvale Site

Construction of a 60,000 square foot Sunnyvale branch of the R. M. Hollingshead Corporation of Camden, New Jersey, chemical specialty manufactureres has just started.

Occupying a ten acre site on Kifer Road, it is expected that the $1,000,000 plant will be in operation by January 1st, 1955, and will employ approximately 50 persons.

The new branch of the R. M. Hollingshead Corporation will manufacture the principal items in its varied line of chemical products for use in the automotive, household, industrial, government and aircraft fields. Products such as hydraulic fluids, corrosion preventatives, floor waxes, car cleaners and waxes are examples of the items that will be manufactured for the Western market.

The Sunnyvale plant is the 66 year-old company's first step in a series of plant expansions. It will service the eleven Western states. The ten acre site will permit eventual doubling of the size of the planned facilities and rail service to the new plant will be provided by the Southern Pacific.

In pointing out the advantages of the new location, R. M. Hollingshead, Jr., Chairman of the Board of the R. M. Hollingshead Corporation, stated that the West is the fastest growing market in the country and the San Francisco Bay Area offers the most central location in the Western market.

"The Bay Area's central location", Mr. Hollingshead said, "offers marked advantages in savings in transportation costs and time of delivery over other sites considered. These savings will greatly enhance service in the Western market." He indicated that most of the raw materials used in the company's operations are produced in the area or are available from nearby sources.

Among the guests attending the ground-breaking ceremonies were Richard J. Elkus, chairman of the San Francisco Bay Area Council; R. B. Gilmore, Sunnyvale mayor; Ken Hunter, Sunnyvale City Manager; B. T. Mills, president, Sunnyvale Chamber of Commerce; members of the Sunnyvale City Council and Planning Commission. Chester D. Lafferty, manager of industrial development, Southern Pacific Company, was the master of ceremonies.

NASH DEALERS IN SALES CONTEST

W. E. Boyer, San Francisco zone manager of Nash Motors, reports that the Nash "Par Busters" sales contest is rolling into high gear as it enters its fourth week.

Scheduled to run through the end of June, the contest has already been responsible for nearly doubling Nash sales in this area. If sales increase at their present rate, volume could double again before its close, Boyer said.

Winning dealers will receive a week's free trip with their wives to Mexico City. Top Nash salesmen will have their choice of one thousand prizes.

Gas and electricity
are cheap in California

When the Husteds moved to California, they were delighted to discover that all their appliances cost less to run.

Their P. G. and E. bill in one month was $9.70

In their former home, the same amount of gas and electricity would cost $17.56

With gas and electricity so cheap in California, you pay less to run appliances, so you can enjoy more of them. Incidentally, if you're shopping for a wedding present, why not give an electrical gift!

"In one month my toaster made 200 slices of toast, for just 6¢

"My family really enjoys the crisp, brown toast we get from our wonderful automatic toaster! And I was amazed when I discovered how little it costs to run. Why, we had a whole month's worth of toast for breakfast and snacks—200 slices of it—for just 6¢ operating cost. That's my idea of a bargain. All our appliances give us real pleasure, and they cost so little to operate."

BUSY YEAR AHEAD SEEN BY NEW STUDENT BODY LEADER

In impressive ceremonies, with the Baccalaureate greens as a backdrop the new student body officers for Campbell High School were initiated in last Monday morning's two assemblies. Laurance Hill, superintendent, said, the 1953-54 group is leaving some high marks for the 1954-55 leaders to match. In turning over the rostrum to her successor, Marilyn Uyeda, admitted that holding "this office has been the highlight of my life thus far." She contended that the high school must be the most democratic, spirited, and hard-working in the whole country.

"If I've been successful it has been because the student body and because I had 23-hour a day people helping me like vice president Vivienne Andres, secretary Joan Arnaud, and student manager Joan Oeser." She also gave credit to her council, Dick Kolte, Gary Lukehart, Marty Langen, and Tony Schraub, which sponsored some 482 school activities including club meetings, student body dances, three successful athletic banquets, a sports show, three variety shows, a carnival, and the sensational spirit commission, probably responsible for the most successful sports year in the school's history.

Superintendent Hill led the new council in their pledge to serve the school, community, and student body. New president Tony Schraub introduced his cabinet with assurance and sincere humility. He will be aided, when school reconvenes September 13th, by vice president Dick Kolte, secretary Pat Means, student manager Carole Foster, and the council nucleus Judy Keech, Roy Cureton, and Jean Rafferty. Thirty-seven commissioners responsible for dramatic productions, lighting for school activities, calendar, social affairs, music and art commission, and athletics were introduced to the audience.

Entertainment at the year end assemblies was provided by the high school faculty dance duo. Girls' P. E. Instructor, Virginia Jennings, and Spanish teacher Eugenio Gamez combined in a Spanish bolero. Mrs. Jennings and Gamez have become popular by little theater performances in the area this past year. Today Gamez is packing his bags for a seven-country tour of Europe this summer, including the bull fights in Spain.

Big Enrollment Los Altos School

Between 465 and 500 students are expected to be enrolled in the freshman-sophomore classes of the new Los Altos High School when it opens in September, 1955, Superintendent Charles Crooke, revealed last week at a Covington PTA-sponsored meeting.

Enrollment the second year is expected to be about 835, and by the third year-end will have reached 1,183, he asserted.

The 1958 graduating class there will consist of approximately 1,300 students, the Mountain View Union High-Schoolman class will have about 1,278, it is anticipated.
